Cause Why Albion

"Is Healthy" is the "mother of its people," as Burke says, it might be well for every county to have a town hall for the annual meeting of their citizens, when legislating for the county. The tax payers, or the legal voters, could meet them, their railroad obligations harassing them, and investment schemes, have a right to legislate for the county and regardless of certain expenditures, and it needs be vote them. We always advocated the opinion, that it would have been better for the county, instead of the project of building a court house to the people, by taking a vote for or against it, than to rush headlong into the enormous debt, without considering the credit of the county to its uttermost limits. We venture to say, that if a vote were taken to-day, the tax payers would be under the necessity of the contracts for the expenses they have incurred, and stop the building, for the present, than to go on, and run the risk of a heavy added tax, however much it may adorn the public square at Mt. Carroll, if not paid for, will stand there as a monument of folly. If the citizens of centre of public justice to an urgent, and we must submit to this ravishing into the people's pocket. Now is it, that when Judge Skinner was at Freeport, on Monday the 28th inst., he, with unpenny reasoned to come over to preside at court, when it was in process. Mr. Skinner of Freeport, offered to bring him and two others over for fifteen dollars. If the Circuit Court can be adjourned to suit the convenience of five dollars to the judge it surely cannot be of sufficient importance, as regard the building of such a court house as is being.

We would suggest the appointment of special investigating committees, after the fashion in the House of Representatives in Congress, to investigate and report the facts relating to the Court House project, 2nd, for calling the Court, whether such a call is necessary or might not be properly dispensed with, and whether it was the design of the legislature when they provided for the Circuit, to make such a travel as has become of late, necessary, 3rd, the amount of contempt which a judge can exercise without a good and sufficient cause, 4th, reasons to hold court at Albion, when it is a fourth, and whether this contempt is able to that end.

A good many of the people of Albion, entirely, that a little contempt of court, foreign (liberal use and moderation of it) fairs, could not be improved upon, and that the under which the people have to groan. Frugality and economy is the only hope. If we persist in the course we are now, of, we are in a few years, irretrievably ruined.

We cannot refrain from the remark, that for the election of post masters in the State. The manner in which the Administration has abused the privilege to its own self-aggrandizement is a reproach. We will not say that there are not a few who were honored for the purpose, but a few who were honored for the purpose, but a few who were honored for the purpose, but

STOVES! STOVES!! STOVES!!!
